

Workplace Health & Performance Competency Framework

Becoming a Certified Workplace Health and Performance Ambassador, Practitioner, or Expert (CWHP)

Contact Us

Phone: 780-945-6134

Email: info@wellnessworkscanada.ca

Scotia Place, 10060 Jasper Ave
Suite 2020 Tower 1
Edmonton, AB T5J 3R8

Contents

About CWHP	2
Prerequisites for Accreditation	2
Pathway to CWHP Accreditation	4
Level 1: Ambassador Certification	1
WWC00: Foundational Workplace Health and Performance Knowledge	1
WWC01: Assessing the Current State	2
WWC02: Inspire, Engage, and Integrate	3
WWC03: Integrated Planning	3
WWC04: Implementation	4
WWC05: Evaluation and Innovation	4
Level 2: Practitioner Certification	5
WHP00: Prior Education and Experience	5
WHP01: Leadership and Culture	6
WHP02: Beyond Workplace Health Promotion	7
WHP03: Strategic Program Management	8
WHP04: Effective, Inspiring Communication	9
WHP05: Navigating Change	10
WHP06: Evaluation & Growth	11
Level 3: Expert Certification	12
WHPE: Prior Education and Experience	12

About CWHP

There are three levels of accreditation, each building on each other, to support practitioner growth and development while recognizing expertise and excellence.

A certified workplace health and performance practitioner (CWHP-P) develops competencies to support workplace wellness, psychological safety, organizational performance, and workplace culture. The program is based on a robust, comprehensive, evidence-informed approach connecting the dots between human resources, organizational development, management, leadership, and health promotion to support thriving, high performing work cultures and organizations.

This accreditation program was developed by the only association in Canada supporting the workplace health and performance industry with input and contributions made by the advisory board and staff including Graham Lowe, PhD, Deborah Connors, MPE, Lori Schmidt, Steven Murgatroyd, PhD, Lisa Ross-Rodriguez, PhD, Christina Loitz, PhD, Allan Smofsky, Nora Johnston, MA, Kathie Gavin, and Victoria Grainger, MBA.

Prerequisites for Accreditation

The prerequisites for each level of accreditation, along with a high-level overview of each, is below.

	Prerequisites	Description
Ambassador	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • None 	For everyday ambassadors responsible for supporting workplace well-being as a part of their role. These individuals may or may not have a background in health promotion and/or human resources but are formal or informal leaders.
Practitioner	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Related university degree and 3 years of experience OR • Related post-graduate diploma and 4 years of experience OR • 5 years or more of related experience • Evidence of accomplishments, projects led and/or changes implemented 	Ideal for those whose have, or are pursuing, a full-time career is in the industry of workplace health and performance. These individuals will have some HR, OHS and/or health promotion education and/or experience. They will be assessed on their ability, and/or, prior experience performing the role of a workplace wellness or workplace health and performance coordinator/manager/director.

	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Evidence of serving in a formal wellness/workplace health promotion role and/or of being a member of/or chairing a worksite health and wellness committee
Expert	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Related master's level degree and 5 years of experience OR • Related university degree and 8 years of experience OR • 10 years or more of related experience AND • Written essay demonstrating formal &/or informal relevant experience with examples of impact 	Perfect for seasoned practitioners and consultants. These individuals have significant experience working with multiple organizations in health promotion, human resources, OHS and/or other areas related to building healthy work cultures and can demonstrate impact.

Pathway to CWHP Accreditation

Maintaining Your CWHP Accreditation

The field of workplace health and performance is growing and changing. To maintain your accreditation, continuous development is required. The ambassador level requires four continuing education credit (CEC) hours per year and the practitioner and expert level require 18 credits per year. These credits may be obtained from any Wellness Works Canada webinar, event, or community of practice sessions. They may also be obtained from a variety of other HR and OHS partners. Simply send us a copy of evidence of completion of professional development to info@wellnessworkscanada.ca, and to confirm eligibility.

Level 1: Ambassador Certification

WWC00: Foundational Workplace Health and Performance Knowledge

Description: This unit assesses an understanding of the Wellness Works Canada guide, model, pillars, and overarching process required to build a healthy, high performing work culture. This unit also assesses basic knowledge and understanding of the connection between well-being, productivity, organizational performance, and national prosperity.

Content Covered
Workplace Health & Performance Pillars
Success Factors
Culture
Methodology
Benefits
Workplace Health & Performance and National Prosperity
Occupational Health, Safety and Well-being
Psychological Health and Safety Standard
Standard Requirements
Psychological Health & Safety Risks and Hazard Assessment
Psychosocial Risk Factors
Industry / Sector Trends
Employee Health and Performance Outcomes

WWC01: Assessing the Current State

Description: This unit reviews and assesses an understanding of the tools and skills needed to understand and assess workplace culture to create an informed strategy. It reviews broader social, economic, political, cultural, and environmental contexts; employee wants and needs; the root factors that impact employee well-being; workplace culture; organizational performance; stakeholder perspectives; and existing evidence and experience; to inform options for action.

Content Covered
Environmental Context
Stakeholder Analysis and Readiness assessment
Organizational Audit
Employee Health and Performance Assessment
Root Cause Analysis
Scorecard and Measures
Assessment Results

WWC02: Inspire, Engage, and Integrate

Description: This unit reviews and assesses the process of getting stakeholders on board to achieve a shared vision. It looks at creating a shared value that is systematic, integrated and creates accountability using change leadership practice that involves building capacity and mobilizing stakeholders. Chapters 8 and 9 of A Better Place to Work is a recommended pre-reading.

Content Covered
Business Case Development
Resource Attainment
Sponsorship
Integration
Engagement / Inspiration
Change Leadership

WWCO3: Integrated Planning

Description: This unit reviews the action planning steps. It emphasizes the importance of actively engaging business units, leaders, and other stakeholders to plan to use a shared values and responsibility approach. Throughout, the use of attributes such as positivity, trust, purpose, productivity, and connectedness is encouraged and assessed.

Content Covered
Leadership Support
Developing Shared Values and Objectives
Adequate Resources
Communication Plan
Outcomes and Objectives
Detailed Planning
Clear Roles and Responsibilities

WWC04: Implementation

Description: This unit reviews implementation, monitoring of effectiveness, and pivoting, as required using a shared responsibility approach. Where possible, this unit supports the use of existing mechanisms to simplify the approach to building a healthy, high performing work culture. For example, leadership meetings, joint workplace health, safety and well-being, or social planning committees, team meetings and more can review progress and promote change and adoption.

Content Covered
Regular Check-ins
Emergent Strategy
Shared Responsibility and Accountability
Simplification
Resourcefulness

WWC05: Evaluation and Innovation

Description: This unit reviews, at a high level, VOI vs ROI, relevant measures in the short and long-term, and the importance of frequent celebration, continuous improvement, and innovation.

Content Covered
Simplifying Evaluation
VOI vs ROI
Sustainability and Long-term Focus
Relevant Measures
Quick Wins
Monitoring Progress
Refinement and Innovation
Celebration
Final Critical Reflection

Level 2: Practitioner Certification

WHP00: Prior Education and Experience

Welcome to the Practitioner Workplace Health and Performance Certification. There are six units associated with this level of certification.

This first unit assesses experience, education, and the evidence of impact from programs and strategies you have been involved with in the past. The education and experience requirements for the practitioner level are as follows:

- Ambassador level certification
- Related university degree and 3 years of experience OR
- Related post-graduate diploma and 4 years of experience OR
- 5 years or more of related experience
- Evidence of accomplishments, projects led and/or changes implemented
- Evidence of serving in a formal wellness/workplace health promotion role and/or of being a member of/or chairing a worksite health and wellness committee

Evidence Required
Credentials
Experience
Accomplishments

WHP01: Leadership and Culture

Description: Welcome to the unit of Leadership and Culture. This unit is a high-level overview of effective leadership, with recognition of the roles and responsibilities of the organization’s leadership and their relationships with other stakeholders to build a healthy, high performing work culture. The recommended pre-readings for this section are chapters four and five of Creating Healthy Organizations by Graham Lowe, PhD and chapter nine of A Better Place to Work by Deborah Connors.

Content Covered
Vision
Leadership Commitment
Inclusive Leadership
Transformational vs. Transactional Leadership
Organizational Alignment
Collective Purpose
Demonstrating Leadership
Empathy
Positivity
Trust
Connectedness
Cultural and Ability Sensitivity
Self-care
Critical Reflection

WHP02: Beyond Workplace Health Promotion

Description: The lines between workplace health promotion, occupational health and safety and psychological health and safety have become blurred in the last decade. The role of a Workplace Health and Performance Practitioner is to connect the dots, advocate, and facilitate, a holistic shared responsibility approach for a physically and psychologically safe, healthy, and high performing work culture. This unit reviews more detailed health promotion and psychological health and safe practices that can be integrated in an organization’s overarching plan towards achieving a shared vision of a healthy, high performing culture. It also covers topics that are increasingly connected to a healthy workplace – such as diversity, equity and inclusion and sustainability.

Recommended pre-readings for this unit: Chapter 2, Beyond Health Promotion and Chapter 7, Sustainable Success of Creating Healthy Organizations, by Graham Lowe and chapter 8, Inspire Psychological Health in a Better Place to Work, by Deborah Connors.

Content Covered
Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion
Sustainability and Alignment
Health Promotion Knowledge and Skills
Built Environment
Total Worker Health
Psychological Health, Safety and Organizational Effectiveness
Productivity
Policy Development
Education and Training
Ergonomics
Critical reflection

WHP03: Strategic Program Management

Description: This unit reviews the strategic approach to program management and implementation considerations. In many cases, as a health and performance or wellness practitioner, you not only need to strategically align your work with others, but you need to manage projects on your own as well. This unit reviews the strategic nature of your role as a professional, along with basic project management methodology to ensure that all workplace health and performance strategies, objectives, and priorities achieve the organization’s plan.

Content Covered
Strategic Health and Performance
Governance and Worksite Committees
Appreciative Strategy
Scope, Time, Cost and Quality
Planning
Risk Management
Development and Implementation
Recruitment and Hiring
Community Partnerships
Team Unity
Time Awareness
Resource Management and Procurement
Prioritization
Ethical Practice
Finance, Accounting, and Budgeting
Simplification
Critical reflection

WHP04: Effective, Inspiring Communication

Description: This section builds on the Inspire, Engage, and Integrate unit from the Ambassador level. Communication is one of the key success factors for any strategy. This unit reviews the ability to relay information effectively with diverse audiences using appropriate approaches and technologies and partnership with appropriate stakeholders to enhance communication throughout an organization. This unit also builds on the ability to inspire and empower others with inclusive leadership to build a culture of trust and purpose to support psychological safety and open communication. Read: chapter three, How Vibrant Workplaces Inspire Employees of Creating Healthy Organizations, Taking Action to Improve Employee Well-Being Revised and Expanded Edition by Graham Lowe, and chapter four of A Better Place to Work, by Deborah Connors.

Content Covered
Advocacy
Shared Purpose/Alignment
Stakeholder Education
Unions and Stakeholder Management
Relationship Development and Maintenance
Information Dissemination
Writing Briefs
Transparent, Appreciative Messaging
Leveraging Communication Networks (ambassador network)
Influence, Negotiation and Persuasion
Conflict Management
Critical Reflection

WHP05: Navigating Change

Description: Many agree that change is the only thing constant these days. Starting a health and performance strategy, introducing new digital disruption, or adapting a businesses strategy in response to the global pandemic can all be necessary changes to improve an organization’s success. However, organizational change can impact employee well-being and organizational performance if not handled well. It requires an inclusive leadership approach. For people and organizations to be successful both need to be agile and resilient. This unit reviews how to support healthy, agile people and organizations through change. Please read chapters five and six of Creating Healthy Organizations, Taking Action to Improve Employee Well-Being Revised and Expanded Edition, by Graham Lowe as pre-reading for this unit.

Content Covered
Agility
Digital Disruption
Stress, Change and Team Practices
Resilience and Psychological Capital
Change Management
Change Leadership
Critical Reflection

WHP06: Evaluation & Growth

Description: The ambassador level certification reviewed evaluation at a high level. This level goes a little deeper. The pre-reading is chapter 8, Measuring Progress of Creating Healthy Organizations: Taking Action to Improve Employee Well-Being Revised and Expanded Edition, by Graham Lowe.

Content Covered
Evaluation Tools, Processes, and Initiatives
Appropriate Metrics
Appropriate Data Collection and Analysis
Reporting and Growth
Leading and Lagging Indicators
Logic Model or Strategy Map
Learning Culture
Critical Reflection

Level 3: Expert Certification

WHPE: Prior Education and Experience

Welcome to the Expert Workplace Health and Performance Certification section. This unit assesses experience, education, and the evidence of impact from programs and strategies you have been involved with in the past. The education and experience requirements for practitioner level are as follows:

- Ambassador and Practitioner level certification
- Related master's level degree and 5 years of experience OR
- Related university degree and 8 years of experience OR
- 10 years or more of related experience AND
- Written essay demonstrating formal &/or informal relevant experience with examples of impact

Title	Evidence Required
Experience	Submit a 1000-word essay explaining the positive outcomes your work has achieved in one or more workplaces.

Building a healthy population and high-performing economy.
One organization at a time.
Together.